FROM THE PULPIT

THE HOLYDAYS ARE UPON US! YOM KIPPUR IS NEARING AGAIN!

Recently I had a very interesting conversation with a good acquaintance of mine who happened to be Evangelical Christian. We talked about life and death. His view of death was quite interesting. According to this young man, Christianity believes that when we die, we go to a better place. The world of the afterlife is better than this world. Therefore, there is no reason to be particularly afraid of death or to break ourselves over the death of the loved one. While we do mourn we also celebrate one's entrance into the better world.

In my turn I presented the Jewish point of view. Every human soul is like a world, a universe in itself. When one is born, it is as if the entire world has been created again. When one dies, it is as if the whole universe has been destroyed. This is why in our tradition we always take death of our loved ones very painfully. On the other hand, Judaism does believe in the afterlife, but it is primarily a religion of here and now, a religion of life. That is why death only highlights life. When someone dies, we reflect on his/her life and works. Therefore, the Jewish experience of death is both that of intense mourning and of exuberant rejoicing over life in this world.

Many rabbis likened Yom Kippur to death. The way we observe it with all its ascetic and even somewhat harmful requirements does imitate dying. However, (fortunately) it does so without dying itself. Yet we do feel profound sorrow over our mistakes and transgressions, and we do reflect on how we lived our life so far. This spiritual process moves us to the next step: how we shall live from now on. We purify ourselves so that we could be better human beings. Judaism is a religion of life. So choose life and live it well!

The Prez Sez

As a very warm summer comes to an end we look forward to the early arrival of the High Holidays. We will once again have our services at St. Raymond's church. This year however we will be located in the Community Room which will be much more conducive to our size crowd. Do not worry there is room for more people than we had last year so once again please do what you can to attract new members to Am Chai.

Recently Diana and Wayne Schneidman have aggressively stepped in to offer new ideas for us to attract new members. Being visible on Craig's List and Face book are areas we have not been exposed to before. I cannot express how important that we increase our membership this year.

The congregation extends congratulations to Breanna Remack, Megan Placko, Alex Rabe and their families on their recent Bat Mitzvahs.

Their hard work in preparation with teacher Cindy Placko and Rabbi Tillman made us all proud.

On behalf of Sharon and me we wish all of you a year of good health and happiness.

La Shana Tovah,

Al Goldberg

Membership Musings

Hello again,

I hope that you had a great Summer. I guess that it is true that word of mouth and internet does bring in new members. I would like to welcome Edward Manjarez, Alexander and Anita Rabb, and Garry and Lauren Rosenfeldt to our Congregational family. It is great to see new members. If you know of anyone that has attended a Congregation that has closed its doors do not hesitate to let us know. We are available to everyone that needs us, and we can fit every persons needs. We have plenty of room for the High Holidays this year. Our prices include membership and High Holiday tickets. Contact me at 847-604-4060 and leave a message or go on the website www.amchai.org and send an e-mail.

Keep up the good job of member recruitment and make Am Chai the best Conservative Congregation in the area.

Shalom, Dick Zittler

Ritual Corner

Our summer period has been consistently warm this year. After the doldrums of long winter days and the wet days of a shorter spring, the change in climate was well received. Now with the summer in twilight stage it is pretty clear that the High Holidays are right around the corner.

Our Friday services have been sparsely attended. We wish there were more in attendance, but I guess the warmer weather tends to provide people options of outdoor rather than indoor activities. I am not sure it would be practical to hold an outdoor Friday night service. Service curriculum is always going to be precisely the same since we follow the Sabbath Prayer book which does not change from week to week. The Torah portion for each week does change, and the Rabbi adjusts his sermon to follow that portion weekly. Oneg Shabbats are also the same other than a change in menu selection. But the celebrating the Sabbath with other members of the Am Chai family is something that remains the best part of the service. We should all look forward to having an enjoyable Sabbath and celebrating it together.

High Holidays will begin on Friday 9/3 with our enjoyable Selichot Service. Rosh Hashana begins on Wednesday 9/8 followed by Yom Kippur on Friday 9/17. Rabbi Tillman will lead the Service with Art Reisman and the Choir blending in their accompaniment. We all know how enjoyable it is to hear the Service and Prayer together. The Holiday period ends with Sukkot on Sunday 9/26 and Simchat Torah on Friday 10/1. Once the Holidays have passed let's keep in mind that there are Fridays throughout the year including other Holidays

We had two more Bat Mitzvah in July. They were as beautiful as the first one in April. That is quite an accomplishment for our little Shul and we should all be overjoyed at their successes. Let's all try to spread the word that Am Chai is alive and well here in the Northwest Suburbs. We all need to pitch in and try to help Membership bring in new members. Also there will be more fundraisers in the fall which we should all try to attend and help the Congregation.
